

man, Mr. Lusk, having disowned it when questioned about it! The resolution was indefinitely postponed, but not without some angry debate.

The glorious 8th was celebrated by the firing of cannon and such other tokens of commemoration as become the occasion—but in consequence of its being Sunday many of the members and others did not participate in it. The matter was brought before the House of Representatives, on Monday previous, by Mr. McHenry of Bates, in a set of resolutions, which were warmly supported and finally adopted, celebrating the day, Sunday though it was. They were opposed by whigs and democrats, on the ground that it would desecrate the Sabbath, and do violence to the scruples of the religious portion of the community. But none seemed to be opposed to celebrating the day on Saturday or Monday. The Senate amended, by striking out the 8th and inserting the 9th. The House disagreed to this amendment, and adopted another set of resolutions to celebrate the 8th, upon their own hook. Many of the Senators as well as citizens and others joined them in the celebration.

A most splendid celebration ball was given on the evening of the 9th, by Messrs. Crump and Jackson, at the Missouri House, when and where the beauty of Jefferson City and vicinity was assembled. Indeed, it was said that it was one of the most magnificent affairs ever known in these hills. They danced to the most mellow, melting and soul-stirring strains of music! and when tired of the dance, repaired to a table groaning with all the delicacies, luxuries, &c., that the most fastidious could desire: that over, they again resumed the dance, and kept it up until near morning.

In Judge Leland's case the Senate have slightly amended the charges and specifications preferred by the House; and both Houses will meet together to-morrow for the purpose of choosing two or more managers to conduct the trial, which is to take place the first Monday in February.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate on the 3d, petitions were received in relation to the Bankrupt Law. Mr. McDuffie appeared and took his seat as the successor of Mr. Preston. The Oregon Bill was further discussed by Messrs. Linn and Phelps, amended, and ordered to be printed.

In the House, Mr. Brown, of Tenn., Weller, of Ohio, and Mr. Ferris, made speeches against the repeal of the Bankrupt Law.

On the 6th the proceedings were not important. In the House, the subject of Gen. Jackson's fine passed the "morning hour," and afterwards a motion was made to take up the Bankrupt Bill, in preference to Private Bills, but it requiring two-thirds, it was not sustained—yeas 113, nays 90. Private Bills were then considered, some of which were passed, and the House then adjourned.

In the Senate, a bill legalizing the removal, within the territory of the United States, of such citizens as may, in fixing the boundary between us and Texas, have been left within the jurisdiction of the latter, was passed.

B. S. FARR, the young man who was shot in St. Louis by L. D. Walker—an account of which we published in our last—is dead.

U. S. SENATOR.—The Legislature of Kentucky, on the 7th instant, elected the Hon. John J. Crittenden, United States Senator, for six years from the 4th of March next. Col. Richard M. Johnson, was put in nomination against him. The vote stood for

John J. Crittenden,	88
Col. R. M. Johnson,	43
Crittenden's majority,	45

ISAAC HILL'S OPINION OF HIS PARTY.—Isaac gave notice in a late number of his paper that he would next week commence a review and exposition of the "knavery, dishonesty, intolerant tyranny, petty trickery, log-rolling, wire-pulling, meanness, mismanagement of the dictatorial and proscriptive clique who have taken upon themselves the responsibility of originating new tests in the Democratic creed—the management of the New Hampshire State government, and the plunder of the State treasury." If any one is capable of exposing the trickery of the locos, Isaac Hill is the man; for he has been long enough connected with them to find them out.

The St. Louis Gazette of the 13th says: The steamer Mary Tompkins, from St. Charles for New Orleans, struck a snag yesterday at the mouth of the Missouri river, and sunk in three and a half feet water. She went up to St. Charles to receive on board about 800 barrels flour, which was insured at the Union Insurance Office in this city. It is thought the boat will be raised again.

LEGISLATIVE.

The letter of our Jefferson correspondent failed to reach us this week. We give to-day the letter which should have appeared in our last.

The two Houses met on the 11th to elect managers to prosecute the charges against the Hon. John D. Leland. John S. Phelps, of Green, and Trusten Polk, of St. Louis county were chosen managers. The trial comes on the sixth of February.

On the 12th, Mr. Black introduced a resolution that it was inexpedient for the legislature to have any action on the subject of districting the State, and that the matter be referred to the action of the people of the State at the next general election. The resolution being a concurrent one was ordered to lie on the table one day.

Mr. Wells introduced a bill to divide the State into five equal districts for the election of members of Congress.

In the Senate on the same day, the Resolutions from the House known as the "Mandamus Resolutions," were taken up and discussed. Mr. Monroe offered an amendment, a resolution to the effect that any attempt to district the State would be considered as disgraceful to the State and as yielding a tame submission to the mandates of a tyrannical Congress, which was rejected by a vote of 21 to 11. The resolutions as they came from the House were ordered to be read a third time to-morrow.

The resolutions in relation to the fine imposed upon Gen. Jackson, from the House, were taken up and passed.

On the 14th the following bill passed the House, which having previously passed the Senate, is now the law of the State:—

An Act amendatory to an act, entitled an act to regulate the practice of law, approved 17th March, 1835, and an act entitled an act for the speedy recovery of debts due on bonds and notes, approved 14th March, 1835, and an act entitled an act to establish Judicial Districts and Circuits, and prescribe the times and places of holding Courts, approved 17th of March, 1835, and an act entitled an act to establish Justices' Courts and to regulate proceedings therein, approved 21st March, 1835.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Missouri, That hereafter two terms of the Circuit Court of each county, except the Circuit Court at St. Louis, and of the St. Louis Court of Common Pleas, of this State, and no more, shall be held in each year, and at such times as by law shall be arranged by this General Assembly, but the circuit of every county may hold special terms for the purpose of trying criminal business, whenever the Judge of the Court shall make an order for that purpose.

Sec. 2. That Justices' Courts in the several townships in this State, shall be held in their respective townships once in every 3 months and not oftener.

Sec. 3. That in all suits brought in the Circuit Courts and the St. Louis Court of Common Pleas, in this State, issues shall be made up as is now provided by the act entitled an act to regulate the practice at law, approved 17th March, 1835, and after the issues shall have been made up, the suits shall stand continued until the 2d term, when they shall be tried unless continued for good cause.

Sec. 4. The same rule as to continuances of trials shall apply in Justices' Courts.

Sec. 5. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prohibit any person or persons from appearing personally in open court and confessing judgment in any case, whether a petition be filed or not.

This act to take effect from and after its passage.

The Committee on the Judiciary have been instructed to prepare a bill fixing the times of holding the courts under the above law.

"The editors of the Boon's Lick Times, ask us to give them information concerning some person, whom they allege now resides in the Northern part of this State—that was entrusted with a sum of money, of the amount of perhaps $800, by some religious or benevolent society, to dispose of in a particular manner, but who failed to make his report satisfactorily. We know of no such case, nor do we presume any such ever occurred. It is in our opinion, another base and malignant lie, fabricated by that mendacious print.—Paris Sentinel."

Well, now, my dear sir, don't be so over sensitive. We didn't say you were the person, but understanding that some one lived in that section of the country who had appropriated a sum of money to his own use, when entrusted to him for a specified purpose, we merely made an inquiry, so that if he could be found out, he might be brought to justice. We have since learned he lives in or near Paris, and would again ask our friend of the Sentinel to give us his aid in finding him out.

Roast turkeys, ribs, coffee, eggs, biscuit and pies. With all sorts of good liquors and wines likewise. Are found at the "GALT," and pronounced first rate—

Served up by a friend most pleasant and strong!

We notice a proposition in some of the loco papers for holding the locofoco National Convention in Cincinnati, in order to have General Jackson as the presiding officer. A beautiful gull trap, that; a block of wood might as well be placed in the chair of the convention; but General Jackson's name, and the presence of his person, albeit he is in a state of superannuation, in the opinion of the locos, would give great weight to the proceedings.—Vive la lumbug.

We have recently noticed the marriage of several Editors, and this week publish that of the editor of the "Western Missourian." This is right; the cares, vexations, and troubles of their vocation are too much for one to withstand, with cold rooms, dirty floors, and cold beds, to greet them when the business of the day is over. We were about to give over, and consider it, as the boy said, "our d—d luck" to be subjected to the above petty annoyances, but learning the gentleman "with a nose, rosy cheeks, and curling locks," who edits the "Missouri Statesman," is about to take to himself a "washing machine and warming pan," we think there is yet a chance for us, and therefore announce we are still in the field. Do you hear that, gals?

SMOKE! SMOKE!!

Who does not smoke? Some do not 'tis true, but they know little of the luxuries of life. We were so fortunate as to receive from the hands of Messrs. Smith & Brother, of Glasgow, a box of superior Principe Cigars, which ensures us tranquillity of mind for at least a week, for 'twould be desecration to lose one's temper when whiffing a Principe. Come on and dun us now, we can stand it, and if you want a first rate article in the smoking, or almost any other line,—"cheap as dirt"—call on the above named gents.

Extract from a letter of the Nashville Whig, dated New Orleans, Dec. 25.

"Of the prospects of Tobacco, I am happy to have it in my power to report more favorably. The general opinion here is, that prices will be pretty well supported throughout the season, though not to the extent of the figures now current. The New Orleans value of the article (I mean to be understood) will remunerate the planter, and if speculation should not run wild in the upcountry, it may pay a profit to second-hand operators. The receipts thus far have been light; sales are made without much difficulty at 2 a 2 1/2 (extremes) for crossed, 3 1/2 a 4 1/2 for seconds; 4 1/2 a 5 1/2 for firsts. When the bulk of the crop comes forward, the quotations is estimated will fall 1/2 a 3/4 cents below these figures, say 2 3/4 and 4 1/2 cents for average lists of crossed, seconds and firsts. The crop of Tennessee and Kentucky is turning out, in point of quality, better than last season. The crop of Missouri is a favorite one, I find, in this market, the soil and climate of that State being considered superior to ours, for the finer descriptions of Tobacco. The receipts at this port to this date, are 5015 hds. against 2760 hds. same period last year, an increase which would indicate a material falling off in prices, but for the partial failure of the crop of Virginia, and the enhanced consumption of the article in Europe. The largest Tobacco buyer in New Orleans, for many years past, has been the agent for the French Government which it will be recollected, controls the entire Tobacco trade of the Kingdom, by a direct and proscriptive monopoly. The Agent of France has not yet appeared this season, nor is it known to whom the annual contract for purchasing for the Government will be let. It generally yields to the Agent a net profit of thirty or forty thousand dollars on the purchases of this port alone."

MISS LESLIE'S MAGAZINE.—The first number of this work has reached us; the publication of the "Young People's Book" having been suspended, its subscribers will in future be served with the Magazine—a change which we are satisfied all will be pleased with. Mr. T. S. Arthur being associated with Miss L. in the management of the editorial department, is sufficient guarantee for the unexceptionable character of the contents.

The very superior engravings in this work will prove a great attraction, particularly the plates of fashion, which are unequalled by any thing we have ever seen.

This beautiful work is published at the unprecedented low price of $1.50 a single copy, or four copies for $5, by Morton McMichael, 101 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

THE LOT OF THOUSANDS.

"To live, to love, to hope—and find it vain.
To see friends falling, and their riches fly,
A youth of follies—an old age of pain!
To pine for freedom, and yet fear to die!
Then add to these, (for such is mortal's lot),
To die at last—unpitied and forgot!"

MARRIED.

On Tuesday evening, 27th ult., by the Rev. Leander Ker, R. V. KENNEDY, Esq., editor of the Western Missourian, to Miss FRANCES NOYLE, daughter of James Patton, Esq., all of Independence, Mo.

"May the editor find, from his labors sweet rest,
As softly he pillows his head on that breast
Which beats at each thro' with emotions of love,
As pure as the fountains that flow from above."

"And may the young bride, as she moves down the stream
Of life, find each moment as bright as a dream,—
May the bright bridal wreath which encircles her brow,
Never fade, but be ever as bright as 'tis now.—
May Love, Joy and Happiness float on the breeze,
To waft them through life on Prosperity's seas."

At Warsaw, Mo., on Sunday the 1st inst., by A. Ritchey, Esq., Mr. WM. ROBINSON of Boonville, to Miss MARY P. ALEXANDER of Galatia, Tenn.

On the 27th ult., by Eld. Calhoun, Geo. H. HUBBELL, of Trenton, Grundy county, Mo., to Miss Mary, daughter of Wm. Smith, Esq., of Glasgow.

DIED, in St. Louis on the 30th of December, Mr. EDWARD SIMPSON, of Boonville.

January—1843.

WHILE grateful, acknowledging the patronage of our numerous friends for the past year we solicit a continuance of their favors. In view of the signs of the times we have been induced to somewhat alter our system of doing business, but our friends will find their interest and convenience fully consulted in the change.

We offer our present stock of goods at the lowest cash prices—and will receive in payment Wheat, Tobacco, Hemp, Flaxseed, Beeswax, &c. at the market rates. As early as possible in the Spring we will be prepared with a full assortment of such goods as are peculiarly adapted to the market and on terms to suit the times.

ESPERSYKES.
To the Breeders of fine Horses.

THE imported horse ESPERSYKES will make the season of 1843, at Fayette, Mo. He is a dark bay or brown; 16 hands high, and of great beauty, strength and substance, and was a race horse of the first order.

Boyd McNary,
Own brother to the far famed SARAH BLADEN; a dark dapple gray, 16 hands high; a most perfect beauty and a race horse of the first order, will stand the season of 1843 in this, or one of the adjoining counties. I will only say he was by the great Levittian, out of Morgiana, who was never but once beaten. She bantered the United States of America from one to four mile heats and no competitor showed fight.

Further particulars in due time.
JOHN COOPER.
